

Blissfully “Lost” In Telluride

Snowbirds flocking to Telluride, Colorado, this winter will find a new luxe place to bunk down. The 32-room Inn at Lost Creek, slopeside at Mountain Village, features spacious Southwestern-style suites, each with an oversized bathroom, a kitchen, a washer and dryer, and a gas fireplace. No two are alike, but all feature copious warm wood, rich colors, hand-carved artwork and butter-soft leather couches. Rooftop Jacuzzis can be reserved for private parties, and the lobby doubles as an après-ski lounge complete with wine-and-cheese bar. Nightly winter rates (through April 13):

$340–$1,200.
